

Peter C Hunter appointed
Chairman of VertAx Wind Ltd.

For Immediate Release

Guildford – 12th February, 2008 – VertAx Wind Limited today announced the appointment of Peter Hunter as Chairman of the Board of its company.

This appointment is designed to strengthen the Board of VertAx in order to progress the company's commercial development of its 10 Mega Watt offshore wind turbine. Hunter has spent most of his career in the international mechanical and electrical sector of industry and joined the wind industry in 1998 as Managing Director of NEG-Micon UK Ltd. where he remained until returning to Denmark in 2001 and where he sowed the seeds of what is today, Vestas Offshore. Moving to Hamburg later that same year as General Manager – Offshore at the German wind turbine manufacturer, Nordex, he pursued an aggressive policy of European joint ventures for the purpose of designing and building offshore wind farms. Today, Peter Hunter is Vice President, Design & Construction of the Canadian development company, NaiKun Wind which is aiming to build one of the worlds largest offshore wind farms in the Hecate Strait off NW British Columbia.

“We are sure that Peter's many years of commercial experience will be of considerable benefit to this growing company at a time when the world is beginning to realise that offshore wind is key to building a reliable source of renewable energy”, said Steven Peace, founder of Eurowind Development Ltd and Managing Director at VertAx Wind Ltd.
